

Strengthening Solidarity

The Leadership Compass Activity

History

The Leadership Compass draws from the Native American Indian tradition of the Medicine Wheel or the Four-Fold Way. In the Four-Fold Way, the four directions are described as warrior (north), healer (south), teacher (west), and visionary (east).

All directions have profound strengths and potential weaknesses, and every person is seen as capable of growing in each direction. Each person can learn the gifts associated with each direction – through practice and self-awareness.

Purpose

Just as a compass requires all four directions, a strong team requires members from all four directions. You will relate to aspects of all directions, but choose the one that is most resonant for you.

Notice how your leadership style relates to other directions. There are tensions that arise between the different directions, and these tensions should be acknowledged.
